This Sunday, we continue our series of activist preachers as we hear from Rev. Dr. James Forbes.

Preaching from John 3:1-8, Dr. Forbes will proclaim the call for ongoing reform and renewal within the church. He writes, "We are reminded that an authentic 'born again' experience must include a continuous process of being renewed in the spiritual connection to the family of God. To have a vibrant relationship with God demands that we treat our fellow human beings with justice and compassion. Racial bigotry and brutality are incompatible with the genuine claim of being 'born again.'"

Ongoing calls for reform and renewal within the church are a central part of our history. Today's cry for renewal and reform in the church is a call to repentance and continuing engagement with the long, demanding, necessary and life-giving process of turning away from racism and turning toward the beloved community.
